Complaint: Mr. [REDACTED], complainant, alleges that Austin Police Department (APD) officers may have violated APD policy during an interaction with him and his son. Mr. [REDACTED] alleges that an APD officer who was impounding vehicles in the area was flagged down by a woman who said that the dirt bike his 12 year-old son was on was hers and had been stolen. He states that his son called him to tell him that the officer came over to him and began to ask him questions about the dirt bike. Mr. [REDACTED] alleges that when he arrived back to his home, he spoke to officers on scene and offered to go to his storage unit to find the bill of sale for the bike, but officers refused to wait, telling him that it was too late and that the tow truck was already coming. Mr. [REDACTED] alleges that the dirt bike was then impounded even though [REDACTED] [REDACTED] filed for the bike and he offered to provide a bill of sale. Complainant stated that he feels this was because he was Black and the other party and officers were White. Complainant stated that this wouldn't happen if he was not Black. Mr. [REDACTED] alleges that the officer who initially made contact with his son was rude, and that the same officer cursed in front of both he and his son during the incident. He further alleges when he confronted the officer about it, the officer admitted he was "kind of an asshole."

This notice of formal complaint is a request for Internal Affairs to initiate an investigation in order to determine if the employee conduct is within compliance of APD policy, Civil Service Rules, and Municipal Civil Service Rules.
